

It does not require a majority to prevail, but rather an irate, tireless minority keen to set brush fires in people's minds." –Samuel Adams

Dislocation Nation

The first American president was a patriot who was willing to put everything on the line---his fortune, his property, even his blood---in order to secure the liberty he and his fellow Founders envisioned. Once liberty was secured through the bloody conflict with a tyrant, George Washington solemnly accepted election to office. With the same Godly inspiration that so moved the Founders, Washington developed many of the principles which still defend and preserve the United States of America. Washington began the tradition of the American president as a leader, as opposed to a ruler. Most of the presidents since Washington have understood and honored the sacrifices that are necessary to preserve and protect the United States through their own military service, or by discharging their duties as Commander in Chief. Certainly all of them demonstrated the resolve to act in accordance with the power vested in the office to protect and preserve the nation when necessary. All but one.

Photos by TCC Staff

The current president has no intentions of protecting and preserving the republic. "Fundamental transformation" is an action plan calling for exactly what has been distressing us for six years: stagnant high unemployment among American workers idled by the crash of 2008; opposition to energy independence; social, economic and racial strife; failure in the war on terror; the growing use of the Federal Government against citizens of the United States who merely exercise their lawful and God-given rights; open borders inviting uneducated and unskilled labor to flood the US labor market, straining welfare programs and re-introducing previously eradicated diseases; increasing national debt, threatening the already tenuous dollar; onerous regulations and taxation creating a clearly hostile business climate in the USA; the erosion of state sovereignty (for example, Common Core, which portends the creation of countless hordes of ignorant liberals); scandal, abuse, cover-ups and lies; and, perhaps worst of all, the open hand extended to state sponsors of terrorism and terrorist groups by this administration accompanied by the alienation of and hostility towards Israel. Obama has even hosted the Muslim Brotherhood at both the State Department and the White House, excluding the press. Breaking with all previous American presidents, this president is an enabler, supporter, rationalizer, funder, and perhaps even a co-conspirator with the worldwide jihad.

Originally, “The fundamental transformation of the United States of America” was an undefined, mainly rhetorical policy. Or was it a promise? Perhaps a threat? It appears more than ever to in fact be a threat to the very existence of this Republic.

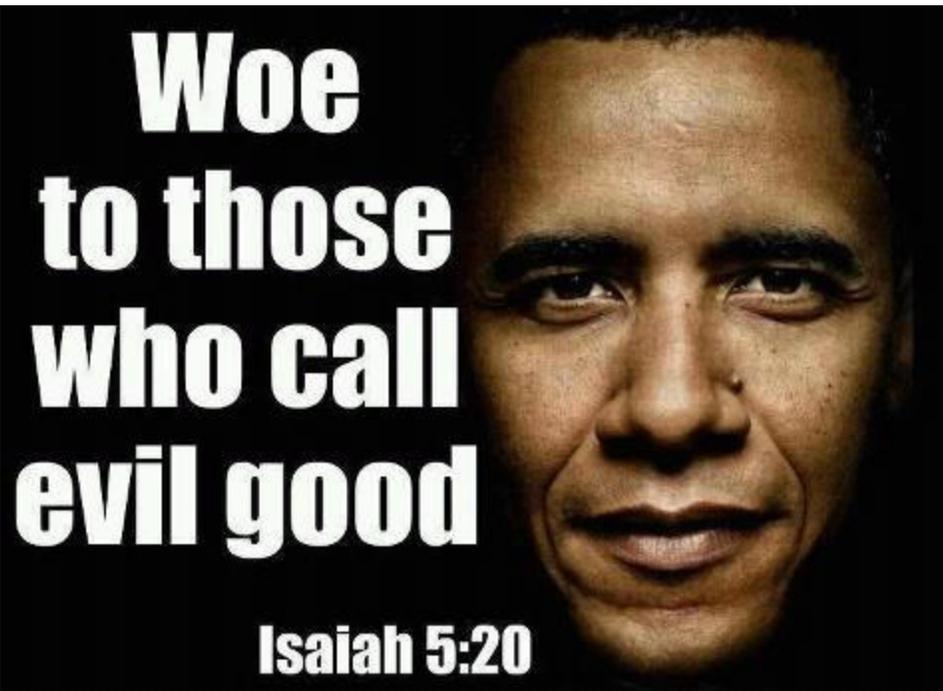

My generation has many popular maxims including, “Action speaks louder than words.” The administration routinely equivocates as a cover for bad actions. Actions so bad that they cry out loud. Most recently we have the re-naming of a terrorist organization (the Taliban) as an “armed insurgency.” The administration seeks to soften the political impact of having negotiated with terrorists (against American policy for a lifetime) by exchanging five Taliban leaders, captured and held at GITMO, for an apparent American Army deserter. As it has become evident that those former prisoners will soon be back in action planning attacks and killing more Americans, the debacle becomes an even deeper embarrassment for the Obama perpetual class of 2012. (There are no graduates from this class, only drop-outs.) But they have become numb to their own embarrassments. All they do when called out for their mistakes is double down on the stupid rhetoric that they believed would cover them at the outset. The White House, State Department and the Pentagon all have spokespersons with insufferable talking points which cause them to produce the most painful verbal contortions. They refuse to deviate no matter how hard the press tries to get them to acknowledge the 800 pound gorillas in the room.

In the ignorant liberal belief that other nations are weaker because America is too strong, and that a new balance must be struck, this president is actively allowing the Islamic jihad to erode the hegemony of the United States, which has been the stalwart protector of democracy worldwide. He does this seeking to bring America to “heel” and take a place among all nations as a mere “equal,” naively believing that will “reset” relations with the rest of the world and bring peace. The problem with that approach is that all other nations’ fortunes are tied to ours, so as America weakens, the other nations also weaken, maintaining their relative posture to us. Except for the ones that want to exploit the death of the hegemon, like Russia, China, Iran, and all the Jihad crazies.

Obama could not have won our independence from the tyrannical King of England, or in another time would have capitulated to Hitler and Hirohito. (Hillary would have “empathized” with our WWII enemies in order to defeat them with liberalism’s greatest weapon: overwhelming intellect.) In the liberal mind, the only people who need killing’ in the name of liberty are the ones who never take arms, whose mere innocent birth threatens the “liberty” to have reckless but inconsequential sex.

In the recent State of the Union Address (aka, "Wake Me When It's Over"), this president preached many of the delusions from which he suffers. He declared that the economy is recovering really well and unemployment is declining. With billions of capital held overseas by businesses that are just waiting him out so they can resume doing business in the REAL America, the economy has produced little more than smoke from the federal money presses. The biggest success is energy production, which he has absolutely nothing to do with. Left to him, we would still be paying upwards of $4 per gallon of gas. (The Senate must stand up to this president and override his imminent veto of the Keystone XL Pipeline authorization, even though Obama will undoubtedly still try to stop the shovels with his "pen and a phone"). Meanwhile, the jobs that have been created have been mostly in Texas while much of the rest of the nation remained stagnant or declined. Too many Americans who lost jobs and could have become re-employed have been replaced with cheaper illegal immigrant labor. Wages have been declining for years as the illegal alien invasion stifles wage increases. Yet Obama keeps the borders open and is now offering work permits to millions more illegals. These actions speak louder than these words: That part of the fundamental transformation is a bigger government-dependent class of permanently unemployed comprised of those who were living the American Dream prior to 2008; that this same formerly middle class labor market is part of a "racist" system that denied jobs to others. It is purely an intentionally punitive action to throttle businesses sufficiently to reduce the job market, in turn pressuring businesses to hire mainly those who are cheaper to employ and easier to sever ties with.

During the SOTU speech Obama said that he believes in "smarter government." If he were truly a logical thinker then he would immediately resign, and take all of his pointy-headed friends with him.

Expect a more comprehensive explanation of his attempt to reinvent America in his next book, "Dreams of My Own," subtitled, "Your Worst Nightmares Have Only Just Begun."

Common Core is a Nightmare

Janet McDonald, Neurodevelopment Therapist, was the SATP's speaker at the Open Meeting on February 10, 2015 at the Village Inn, St. Augustine, Florida. Janet gave a brief autobiographical sketch on her qualifications: Educator, Language Arts Specialist (Lehigh U), professional development & curriculum experience, Neurodevelopment Therapist & Instructor, member of Flagler County School Board (elected November 2014).

"The psychological impact on children subjected to the Common Core curriculum is devastating," Janet stated. "Many children may never recover their love for learning".

McDonald emphasized that Common Core (renamed, Florida Standards, to obfuscate the public) is an 'untested' experiment created by attorneys, businessmen, and educational reformers to make the young, impressionable student "compliant workers for the corporate world."

"Common Core has not been validated, just copyrighted," she said. "In other words, the standards have not been deemed adequate nor "more rigorous" by respected educators with content expertise and standards/curriculum creation experience, since common core standards, and all products associated with them, lack research, developmentally appropriate alignment, and documentation for demonstrated success in classrooms anywhere. The tests children are forced to take have not been field tested, validated, nor demonstrated reliability. Most lessons are needlessly complex, without context for associative learning, and are paced to accomplish a one-size-fits-none curriculum by testing time. The common core marketing claims cannot be justified nor demonstrated by any of the materials or promoters. Jason Zimba, lead writer for the math standards, said that common core would not prepare any student for STEM careers nor higher than community college. Educators, Dr. Stotsky and Dr. Milgram, and independent foundations have stated on close inspection of the materials that our common core students will be at least 4 or more years behind global peers in ELA and math."

The immediate solution for parents is to 'opt out' of these tests. The tests are designed for minimal success, drive the costs and feed the cycle for more materials, more training, and more technology...beneficial model for the businesses postured to profit. In Florida, our legislators and Gov. have codified and changed state law to allow for vast data mining by the corporate interests who gain access from technology used in common core. The anticipated school and teacher evaluation use of student assessment results is not scientifically validated..."junk science" those with testing expertise have claimed. Parents must resist and advocate for appropriate education and assessment at every grade.

Florida Education Stakeholders Empowerment Bill is currently in bill writing for this legislative session, with Rep Tobia and Senator Hays serving as education champions for students in Florida. Visit <http://floridacitizensalliance.com> for more information on ways to let your legislators your views on regaining educational sovereignty and excellence in Florida.

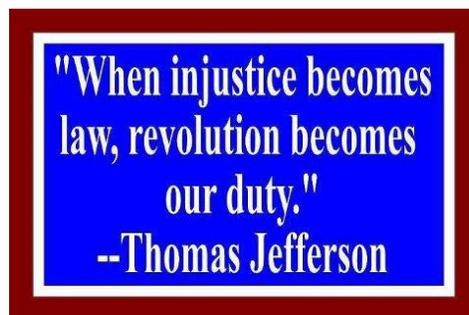

The WHAT, WHY, and HOW of Common Core violates our US Constitution and 3 Federal statutes, which clearly state that education is a local/state responsibility. We must retain the ability to decide what is best for ourselves and our children, rather than businessmen who have the ears of politicians.

What is the TRUE cost of Common Core/FL Standards? Right now, both St. Johns and Flagler Counties have board members who think that their job is to say "Yes" to their Superintendents, according to McDonald. Parents, teachers, and community members need to speak out to reverse the undermining of public education by legislators who do not fully understand the impact of their actions in classrooms and children's lives....and ultimately the economic health of our counties, state, and nation. As M.L. King maintained, "We have a moral responsibility to resist unjust laws." Common core flies in the face of common sense and educational excellence.

"This is the first meeting of the year where the SATP is addressing the problem of Common Core. It is tough fighting Former Governor of Florida, Jeb Bush's dream of changing children into drones for the computer age. Too bad for him that this ill-conceived 'testing boondoggle' is about to implode in his face. It was all about money, from the beginning; not about our children", said Dave Heimbold, Media Chairman of the St. Augustine Tea Party. "Concerned parents, when they experience their children's despair over their convoluted homework, want answers".

"Jail time would be too good for Mr. Jeb Bush and his cohorts", another Tea Party member added.

In the meantime, remember the wise counsel of Mark Twain, who 'never let his schooling interfere with his education.'

Tea Party Stopped the Communist Take Over of the USA in 2010

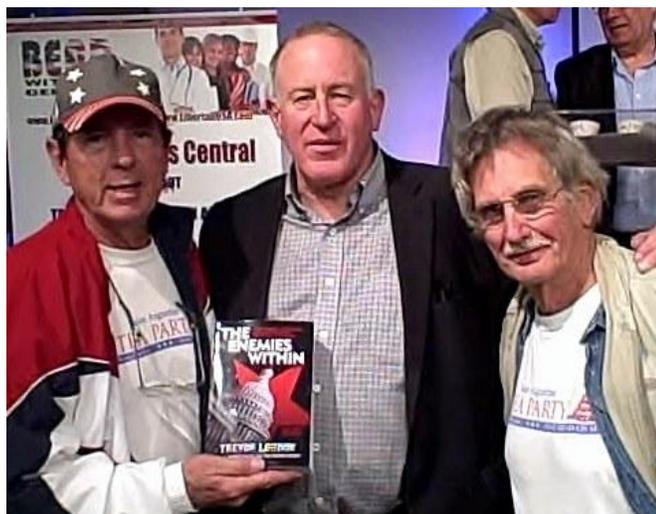

According to Trevor Loudon, it was the spontaneous Tea Party Movement which “came out of nowhere” that stopped the total takeover of the United States. This was the conclusion of his presentation of The Enemies Within, given at the Salam Centre, in Jacksonville, Florida the evening of February 11, 2015.

The event was hosted by Bear Witness Central, a group of Cuban American patriots, whose goal is to restore freedom in America. These Americans who experienced communism in Cuba know, firsthand, the danger that this nation faces. Pictured above are: Rolando Perez, Bear Witness, top left; Author, Trevor Loudon, center; and Alex Newman, South American Communist Expert, who preceded Trevor Loudon’s lecture, bottom right.

As our readers know, the Town Criers, a committee of the St. Augustine Tea Party, have been exposing Obama and his top advisors as Communists for years, on the streets of St. Augustine, Florida.

Thus, the news that Obama and his chief advisor, Valarie Jarret, have been pushing class warfare and Marxist propaganda was not new to the leadership of the SATP. “It was the validation of Trevor Loudon’s statement that it was the Tea Party Movement alone which stopped the total take-over of the United States by the Communists that was a welcomed surprise to Dave and me”, said Lance Thate, Chairman of the SATP, seen in the picture below with author and lecturer, Trevor Loudon.

“Imagine, Mr. Loudon, a resident of Christchurch, New Zealand has to come to the United States to warn the citizens that the ‘socialist termites’ have infested every aspect of American life, thoughts and political influence.

That the 'enemy is within' every branch of the government; Federal, State and local. That the Dictator of the Proletariat is in the White House and the masses don't even know it!

And who is helping this 'take-over-from-within'? None other than the 'fellow travelers'...the Republican Party elite and their 'Blow hard' prognosticator, Karl Rove, from without.

Karl Rove, appointed as the Architect of the GOP, by Fox's Sean Hannity is, in fact, the "Enemy Overt" of the Tea Party Movement. The 'Blow hard' set up his own PAC to defeat Tea Party candidates in last year's Republican Primaries. After GOP darling, Eric Cantor, was defeated early on by the Tea Party backlash, the money brokers outspent the grassroots candidates...even resorting to overt corruption, as in the Kansas Republican Primary where Democrats were allowed to vote and defeated, Tea Party-backed, Chris McDaniel.

America is left with Quisling collaborationists in the House and Senate leadership. These weaklings do, and will continue to compromise with the Communist Dictator, Obama, at every opportunity possible. They talk "Constitution", but are Aristocrats with loyalty only to their self-aggrandizement. In short, they are sell-outs.

We have only praise for Trevor Loudon. The Enemies Within is a terrific resource and names many Communist agents and 'fellow travelers' in the House and Senate and throughout the Country. Trevor would like to see many of the present Republican presidential candidates run as a plank; with, for instance, Ted Cruz for President, Rand Paul, Treasurer, Sarah Palin, Department of energy, etc. We would counter offer: Sarah for President (since she is a Natural Born citizen), Ted Cruz for Secretary of State and Rand Paul for Treasurer.

Unfortunately, in 2010 when the Democratic 'Socialists' were defeated in the Congressional election, the victory was short lived for the Tea Party contingent. Karl Rove and the Aristocrats put out a dictum 'Co-op or destroy' the peasants: that is, take over the Tea Parties or destroy the ones who will not tow the GOP line. In effect they said, "Thanks for helping us win back the House, now we are going to discredit you, throw you out and steal all your stuff."

Too bad, so sad for the Grand Old Party, they underestimated us. The Tea Party Movement is 'within' the People. It is 'the American Spirit' awakening and shining light on the lies and corruption of both parties.

Quality of Life Posturing Continues

Wanchick wants Revenue Increase

At a special meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, County Administrator, Michael Wanchick, made a 45 minute call for his continual sham, "Quality of Life", which means, "Grow Government". He used a fancy power point presentation on the multiple video monitors that populate the auditorium to drive his point home. The public was also subjected to extended presentations, such as the one about Little League and the threat of canceling their programs, while they were restricted to three minutes.

Quality of Life is a Marxist Charade

"Quality of Life" has been a continual theme of the County administrator. He used it to promote the millage rate in 2011. At that time, one lone Tea Party member, pictured left, pointed out that "Quality of Life" comes from the people, not the government. This statement was made at the town hall meeting where citizens who disagreed with Wanchick were being thrown out of the meeting by County Commissioners.

No one was thrown out of the most recent meeting. However, Peter Royal, a local Tea Party member, was restricted by a Sheriff's Deputy from displaying political signs. In an interview with a Deputy who wished to remain anonymous, he stated, "I am with you, but, the order comes from the Sheriff's Department."

Tea Party activists, who were present at the meeting, made the following statement, "The terms Forward, Sustainability and Quality of Life have been code words used by Marxists, and Communists for decades. We find it interesting that "Quality of Life" is so universally used by our County government when they wish to grow what they perceive to be their institutions."

The good news, according to people opposing the tax increases, is that the "Quality of Life" concept was repeatedly challenged at the most recent special meeting on revenue. People are clearly awakening to the fact that "Quality of Life" does not come from government.

Feedback from the Public Restricted

This was a special meeting which was meant to 'gain feedback from the public' about revenue; which is a euphemism for 'taxes'. However, when the public showed support for a speaker opposed to Wanchick's revenue scheme by applauding, Commissioner Rachel Bennett immediately and frequently admonished them to stop their applause. Keep in mind that this special evening meeting was to access public support (or disapproval) for the increase in the sales tax. Ms. Bennett clearly wanted to restrain the public's opinion which tilted against the increase of the sales tax. At one point Bennett declared, "This is not a sporting event."

But Andrea Anthony, First Vice-Chair of the Republican Executive Committee (REC), called Chairman Bennett out for restricting public expression. The audience broke out in a loud and enthusiastic applause, clearly showing their contempt for the Chairman's biased behavior. Clearly the "We and Them" mentality still exists with some of the County Commissioners and the administration. With Stevenson and Sanchez no longer Commissioners, and a new appointment by the Governor underway, perhaps, the people's voice will be restored.

At the back of the room, Tea Party members said, "Nothing is more sacred than political expression under the First Amendment!"

Republicans Instructing Republicans

The Republican Executive Committee officers were present at the meeting and addressed the Commissioners, reminding them of their campaign promises. They had cancelled their scheduled REC meeting to attend the Commissioner's meeting. Very forceful statements by the REC leadership were made against raising taxes. William Korach, current REC Chairman, Harlan Mason, former REC Chairman, Liliana Kurpanik, REC Corresponding Secretary, Bob Smith, REC 2nd Vice-Chair, among others, made presentations to the County Board. All were against the 'revenue' increase.

Is Megyn Kelly a Fellow Traveler?

Megyn Kelly is so full of herself that she is about to explode.

Actually, Megyn Kelly did explode...and blew herself up. Now we know who she really is...a Full Fledged, Card Carrying RINO. You can take a pretty blond lawyer out of the country and make her the Face of Fox, but you can't take the RINO out of her heart.

Megyn, the iconoclast, thought she would be the only one standing after her attack on Mayor Emeritus of America, Giuliani, Thursday night, February 19, 2015, on Fox TV's, The Kelly File. But Megyn Kelly exposed for all to see, that her beef with America's Mayor, was because he cast a bad light on the Republican Party. A bad light? For Pete's sake, everyone knows that the Republican leadership are a bunch of high-brow cowards. How does beating up on Giuliani for telling the truth about Obama's Marxist mentors Frank Marshall Davis, Saul Alinsky and Reverent Wright embarrass the Republican Party? If only the GOP leaders had the balls of Giuliani, Obama would be long gone.

As our readers know, the Town Criers of the St. Augustine Tea Party have been exposing Obama and his top advisors as Communists, for years, on the streets of St. Augustine, Florida. But there have been many others identifying Obama as a card carrying Communist. One of the earliest was Saturday Night Live, alumnus, Victoria Johnson's video, There Is A Communist In the Whitehouse, done 5 years ago.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AIZNA5R9vho>

The entire Country knows who Obama is and that he has used his Gangster friends from Chicago to set up the Dictatorship of the Proletariat in the Temple of the United States, the Whitehouse.

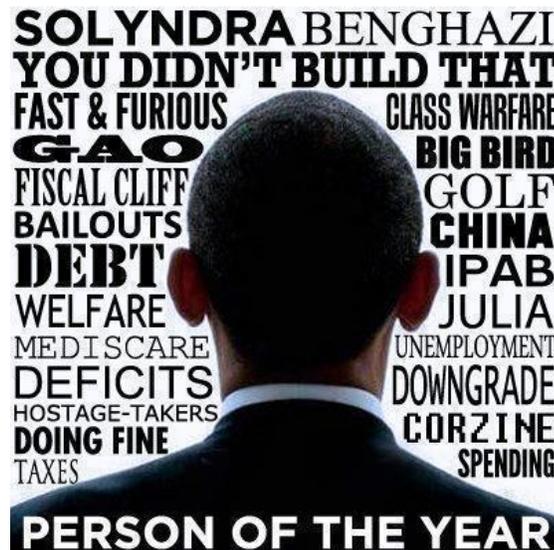

Fox News constantly points out that other networks cover for the Dictator in the Presidency but have never called Obama a Communist, straight away. When Giuliani mentions Obama's three Communist mentors, Megyn Kelly attempted to 'call him out' but slipped up and showed herself to be a 'fellow traveler' of the PC crowd who are forbidden by the GOP to identify the impostor in the Temple, exalting himself above the Supreme Law of the United States, the Constitution.

The problem now is not the Communist Obama, but the 'fellow travelers' like Megyn Kelly and the entire news team at Fox who have been forbidden to expose the Communist plant in the Whitehouse.

Fox, itself, could squash this commie bug and the rest of his Marxist termites would scatter. But no! Their reporters are only allowed to ask 'rhetorical questions' like the title of this article, "Is Megyn Kelly a Fellow Traveler?" They are not permitted to tell the truth with a declarative sentence or state the facts, such as:

Yes, Megyn Kelly is a fellow traveler and is enabling Obama, the Communist, to stay in office. Fox management has muzzled free speech and is culpable for aiding and abetting this treasonous cover-up of Obama's true identity...a Marxist gangster.

Unfortunately for Megyn Kelly, she cut herself seriously while trying to lop-off, American Hero, Giuliani's head. Too bad, so sad.
