American Christians: AWOL

Photos by TCC Staff

The Town Criers, a committee of the St. Augustine Tea Party, appeared Easter weekend on St. George Street. The Town Criers have been engaging the national audience in the historic district of St. Augustine, Florida for four years. [See <http://www.examiner.com/review/a-look-at-town-crier-s-history>]

This weekend the Town Criers were warning the people about our Communist President and his plans to destroy our Country from within. His latest deal with the Iranians shows his true identity. He was, and is, an Islamic sympathizer. In “Audacity of Hope”, Obama said that, “I will stand with the Moslems should the political winds shift in an ugly direction.” He has, he does and he will.

Photos by TCC Staff

While 80% of the United States citizens identify as ‘Christian’, they sit back and watch as fellow believers are beheaded and murdered by ISIS and other Islamic radicals. Normally, a Christian President would send relief and support and rally the civilized nations against these murders. Likewise, in the past, Christian relief organizations would be advertising for their relief efforts to help the refugees in the murder fields. But the Town Criers have seen little or no appeals from Christian Churches and their relief organizations. On the contrary, ISIS and Jihadist sympathizers are joining the fight to kill Christians and Jews. But when Obama gave billions of dollars to support the Muslim Brotherhood take over in Egypt, the press did not cover the story. When the MB in Egypt was eviscerated and outlawed by General Sisi, after the coup d’état, arms to our ally were stopped. Why? “Because our Muslim President has Brotherhood advisors in his administration. All of this is being played out before our eyes. Yet, the 80% are blind to what is going on. If Rush Limbaugh can observe that there has been a ‘Communist silent coup’ of our Federal Government, we can add that there is a ‘Muslim spell’ cast over the Whitehouse,” a Town Crier volunteered.

A Tale of Two Signs

The “Big Red Sign” pictured above and first introduced in 2011 continues to remain the Town Criers most popular sign. This weekend people eagerly grabbed the sign with the desire to be photographed with it. Back in 2011, there was a discussion as to whether Obama was a communist or not. Today, most people know the answer. The statement that “Obama is a Communist” is no longer news. The people understand who he is. [See <http://www.examiner.com/article/obama-is-a-communist-is-no-longer-news> ] However, no one held the ISIS sign. A few brave souls allowed themselves to be photographed with the sign, in view. When the Town Criers call Obama a Communist, the public frequently responds with, “And a Muslim too.” This Easter weekend, there was a reluctance to stand against those who murder their Christian brothers. Obama’s Middle East policies are killing Christians. Is anyone going to resist?

“Less Lethal”...than what?

By Maureen Michelle

The government’s newest weapons shopping list, comes on top of the 1.6 Billion rounds of ammunition purchased for the Department .of Homeland Security over the past 2 years.

It is concerning, that our southern border has been intentionally left wide open, while munitions solicitations are being made for serious crowd control.

One would be led to believe, preparations and solicitations procuring these kinds of serious munitions, would be required for deterring, maiming and seriously injuring human beings.

Consider:

- 1) Why has Congress not demanded our border be sealed? It's almost as if undesirables are being enticed to enter. Lending a note of hypocrisy to their knee jerk spasms of, “national security” and “terrorists” under every bed. Wouldn't condoning the wide open border make the Department of Homeland Security, an oxymoron?
- 2) No one is addressing why this degree of what is referred to as “non-lethal” weaponry is needed, or who it will be used against? What/Who exactly, is the anticipatory recipient for their use?
- 3) Why have these inquiries perfectly coincided in conjunction with the approaching *Jade Helm-15 “exercises”?
- 4) Would American Military, in defiance of the Posse Comitatus Act, wielding these weapons, still consider them “non-lethal enough” to be exercised upon their own family members?
- 5) If the taxpayers are contributing to the funding of these purchases, why then is it not brought widely to the public's attention? Why then, if these exercises are as innocuous as the media has promoted, require live munitions, no matter how non-lethal?

“U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) intends to solicit responses to Request for Information (RFI) 20082225-JTC for Less Lethal Specialty Munitions (LLSM) for use by the Department of Homeland Security

(DHS). CBP is interested in incorporating commercial and industry practices that support this type of procurement. To accomplish this, CBP intends to make industry a partner in all facets of the acquisition process, specifically by considering existing market capabilities, strengths and weaknesses for the acquisition of this commodity.”

Over the course of 9 pages *(PDF), the technical requirements call for an arsenal of specialized weaponry for training and deployment against crowds.

So why are the Feds prepping to take on crowds?

On top of a wide range of gas and chemical grenades, rubber bullets and other riot rounds, the purchase calls for “controlled noise and light distraction devices,” including flash bangs which set off a 175 dB sound with 6 – 8 million candelas light bursts in 10 milliseconds.

Officially, the request is put through Customs and Border Patrol, a subset of the Department of Homeland Security, but it is unlikely that the equipment will be used to protect the border and keep out illegal aliens. The riot gear and crowd control devices have many potential uses.

The requested equipment includes:

Prominent Communist Leaders Hold Conference

Tea Party Tests Public Reaction

While Barack Hussein Obama and Raul Castro were meeting in Panama City, Panama, the Town Criers, a committee of the St. Augustine Tea Party, tested the public's reaction in the historic district of St. Augustine, Florida. The Town Criers have been engaging the public in this capacity over the past four years. The upper collection of photographs was taken about three weeks before the 2012 election. The lower collection of photographs was taken on April 11, 2015.

[See <http://www.examiner.com/review/a-look-at-town-crier-s-history>]

The public's reaction has remained unchanged. While the media and the political parties do not report Obama's Communist background, the national audience on St. George Street has consistently understood the nature of Obama's political background. Obama's connection to Saul Alinsky's tactics as a community organizer is understood. "The people are angry and they want these trashy politicians in Washington removed," a Town Crier said.

Tea Party Movement's Base Expanding Millennium Generation Joining the Fight

In 2012, the people willing to be associated with the Tea Party were largely older citizens. This is reflected in the 2012 pictures shown above. Millennials would call the Town Criers neocons and clearly saw the Tea Party as part of the Republican establishment. The Town Criers report that this is no longer true. In fact, the Criers contend that people participating in their activities on St. George Street, are more likely to be of the younger generation. This is reflected in the pictures shown here of this weekend's activities. This growth of the base has been taking place for the last year and a half. Review of Town Crier archived photographs reveal this startling fact. "It is ironic that the young people educated by progressive teachers, whose unions are communist controlled, are rejecting the failed policies of the left," Dave Heimbold St. Augustine Tea Party Media Chairman said. Continuing, "There probably never was a philosophical connection between the Tea Party and the Republican Party. The leadership of the GOP believes in printing money and growing government, while the Tea Party believes in a constitutional small government based on sound money." The Republican National Committee showed their fear of the Libertarian and Tea Party movements at the national convention in 2012. They refused to let Republican Presidential Candidate, Ron Paul, speak at their convention. That fear prevails and is reflected throughout the party. "Now, Libertarian and Tea Party forces are merging. The result will be a new majority party. The Republicans and the Democrats are soiled brands. They employ tactics that produce the kind of politicians we have today. We need a fresh start with leaders who approach politics by telling the truth," a Tea Party spokesman said.

Town Criers Welcome Two New Members

Bruce Davidson and his daughter, Sara Davidson, made their first appearance as Town Criers this weekend. Like most newcomers both expressed surprise at the overwhelming support that the Tea Party receives. Bruce pointed out that one individual seem to be upset with our presence in front of the Columbia Restaurant. A seasoned Town Crier worked the public right in front of him. The success of the effort forced him to retreat. .

Obama's Muslim Sympathy Revealed

Obama has resisted recognizing the terrorist attack at Fort

Hood Texas by Nidal Hasan calling

it “work place injuries” for nearly five years. This weekend the Town Criers engaged the public’s response with the signs, pictured above. The success of the Town Criers, over the last four years has been largely due to their total rejection of “Political Correctness”. “This foul Soviet concept has no place in America. The public instantly recognizes the truth when it sees it,” explained a Town Crier veteran. The Purple Heart and Fort Hood signs were well received by the national public visiting historic City of Augustine, Florida. Large numbers of people expressed believe that Obama is a Muslim and that he hates America. Clearly, the public expressed their contempt for Obama.

support for Hillary. Not for President, but, for prison. They encouraged the idea of Hillary for Prison. The public enjoyed the play on words and responded favorably to sign.

In anticipation of Hillary Clinton’s announcement that she will be a candidate for president, the Town Criers decided to have a campaign of

Will the Real Hillary Clinton Please Stand Up

In a video released on the Internet, Hillary Clinton announced that she would stand as a candidate for President of the United States.

“ I’m running for president. Everyday Americans need a champion, and I want to be that champion.” Hillary Clinton

Tea Party members suggested that Hillary does not understand the definition of a champion. Champions are honorable people. They honor their responsibilities and take 3

AM calls and they do not lie about it when they fail. The former “Goldwater Girl” turned Alinsky Communist is not fit for any office. Clinton was an Alinsky protégé during her college days.

Hillary Told America Who she is in 2008

During Clinton’s unsuccessful bid for the Democratic nomination for president in 2008, she stated, “I am a progressive in the tradition of the early 1920s.” That makes Hillary Clinton a Fabian socialist, which was imported into the US under the name Progressive .Progressivism and Fabian socialism is an incremental process to the ultimate goal of Communism.

On January 31, 2015 the Town Criers conducted a random poll. The poll question was, “If Sarah Palin and Hillary Clinton were running for president in 2016, who would you vote for. The poll was random as witnessed by this reporter. The question was not asked of people who came up and engaged Town Criers. Rather, the Town Criers selected people along the way. Some refused to participate, but when they found out they could vote, neither, they readily joined in the poll. The sample was 100 persons. Once an answer was given, it could not be retracted. The results are as follows: Neither 20%; Palin 74% and Clinton 6%.

On Citizens and Natural Born Citizens

By John Knapp

I'm not disputing that Barack Obama is a U.S. Citizen. Nor do I dispute that Marco Rubio is a U.S. Citizen. When Obama was born, he had an American mother and a Kenyan father, so he had a dual citizenship, one from each parent. When Marco Rubio was born, his parents were still Cuban émigrés, and not yet American Citizens, which in today's parlance, made Marco Rubio an 'anchor baby'. Marco was born in 1971. Marco's parents didn't get their U.S. Citizenship until 1975.

So, though both Obama and Rubio are rightfully U.S. Citizens, neither are 'Natural' Born U.S. Citizens, according to the Founders' meaning and intentions, because neither was born to two American Citizen parents at their time of birth. (Ted Cruz may have this same 'problem'....as though it seems to be a 'problem' anymore.) Please understand, I believe a President Rubio or a President Cruz would very likely be The natural Reaganesque, whereas His Disgracefulness proves himself daily to be a disciple of Karl Marx.

The Natural-born Citizen concept was a very salient point to the Founders, who thought enough of the idea that they enshrined Constitutional restrictions for the offices of President and Vice-President, so that all future occupants of those two offices would, hopefully, have political allegiance only to the United States.

Barack Obama is a textbook example of how blatantly ignoring the Founders' wisdom on this can come back to bite America on the butt. At best, Obama's allegiances are woefully mixed. At worst, purposely intended to be anathema-tic to American interests, both at home and abroad.....past, present, and future.

It's not that hard to understand. The U.S. Constitution plainly states in Article II, Section 1 : 'No person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the Office of the President;...'

There used to be this simple, well-understood distinction, that there might be enough difference between being a Citizen and being a Natural Born Citizen, to perhaps matter at the highest level of American government. However, over time the Supreme Court has managed to muddy the issue. When the Constitution was written, it was accepted that Citizenship comes down to the child through the citizenship of the child's parents, that the citizenship of the parents was simply a birthright-inheritance, to be automatically conferred upon the child at the time of its birth.

The Founders would insist there was no such thing as an 'anchor baby', because the children of illegal immigrants would inherit the citizenship of their parents, depending on their parents' actual citizenship. The former orderliness of American society is being destroyed, when our borders are no longer recognized, whereby a flood of unknown illegal aliens are able to Balkanize (i.e., 'invade') the country, whereby the meaning and value of American Citizenship is consequentially, substantially, and permanently diluted.....even in the pursuit of the highest office in the land.

To prove the 'powers that be' still recently paid any regard to the concept of what it means to be a Natural Born Citizen, please ponder this: John McCain was born in Panama of two U.S. Citizen Parents. Well before the 2008 election got under way, a bill quietly went through the Congress which stipulated that John McCain was a U.S. Citizen, even though he was born in Panama. When McCain eventually won the Republican nomination for President, the RNC sent a form letter to all 50 state Attorneys-General, notifying them John McCain was the Republican nominee for President, that he was a Natural Born U.S. Citizen, and to please put his name on their respective state's ballot in November. I have a copy of that RNC letter to the Florida Attorney-General.

Comparatively, when Obama was nominated, the same sort of form letter went out to all 50 states' Attorneys-General, but that letter attested only that Barack H. Obama was the DNC's candidate for President, and to please list him on their state's ballot. The letter was signed by Nancy Pelosi, but made absolutely no mention of Barack Obama's Citizenship, Natural-Born or otherwise. I also have a copy of that letter.

So, the Attorney Generals of all 50 States failed to notice this glaring discrepancy between the two letters. Or, they just didn't care enough to ask any relevant Constitutional questions?

The American people have no idea of the fraud that is upon them.

Commissioner Smith Meets his Socialist World

OMG...Commissioner Jeb Smith, himself, experienced the insanity of St. Johns County bureaucrats gone bonkers.

The exasperation of Commissioner Smith in recalling his own experience, as Commissioner, of being excluded from the meeting that following a request to lower the overhead doors on a public building, was a wonder to behold. Mr. Smith, speaking at the St. Augustine Tea Party, had a controlled, public catharsis as he relived what all of us have experienced in dealing with the dunderheads at the county every day. So, the request to "lower the doors" on a building that Mr. Smith had used for 20 years for 4H events, snowballed into a meeting of lawyers, code enforcers, and bureaucrats that concluded in a proposal to spend $3,000,000 on a new facility. What's new? .

The conclusion of the matter is , St. John County employees have an "Adversarial Attitude" in dealing with the public. Instead of being helpful, the culture is to say, "No." It is all about them and not the public. Welcome to the Socialist World Mr. Smith.

Who's really in charge?

It takes no more than a casual encounter to realize that it is the County administrator , Michael Wanchick, and his army of bureaucrats. The battle cry, "Quality of Life", rings through the halls of county government. "Quality of life" together with "Sustainability", clearly marks the direction of the Socialist bent. The public is fed up with the growth in government. They don't want it at the state or local level and they are about rebel at the federal level.

Commissioner Jeb Smith, Sales-tax Issue and the Tea Party

The drama for the evening at the St. Augustine Tea Party meeting on April 14, 2015, was Commissioner Smith's defense of his vote to study a sales tax increase in St. Johns County, Florida. Mr. Smith's reason for continuing the 'study' was to bring to light the fact that farmers and businesses in his rural district are getting hammered with absurd ad valorem tax increases, yearly. He claimed that his farmer father's tax increase was 21% this year. (A maximum increase for home owners is 3%). Commissioner Smith's support for the 'study' was to find a way to equalize the tax burden.

Mr. Smith revealed that he got lots of angry phone calls from constituents who were not pleased with his voting for a sale-tax 'study'. Had Commissioner Smith voted "No" on February 17th, on the second vote, it would have killed the sales tax effort.

Mr. Smith championed the idea of imposing a sales tax increase in St. Johns County if the revenue was used for rollback ad valorem taxes. That way, more people would be carrying the tax burden. This concept is not entirely rejected by fiscal conservatives. Many conservatives support the idea of consumption taxes, sales taxes and user fees. It is a better way to raise revenue as it involves more individuals. They also believe that such taxes would have an ability to improve the economy only if they replaced the existing taxes such as property and income taxes. Sales taxes are usually promoted on the basis of promising that the funds will be used for a popular purpose. In neighboring Putnam County, for example, when the sales tax was voted in the politicians promised that the money would be used to improve roads. Few roads were improved and now the revenue is being used to pay interest. When asked by a Tea Party member if the rollback feature could be changed after the sales tax was in place, Mr. Smith indicated that it could. Commissioner Smith, a very gifted speaker, made a great presentation. However, the distrust of the current Board of Commissioners and future boards failed to convince many at the Tea Party meeting.

It is a Spending issue, not a Revenue issue

Of course, the Tea Party position is that they are “Taxed Enough Already”. Frank Bailey, a new Tea Party member, recently said after listening to a long, complicated presentation by Denver Cook about the County’s budget, “Sounds to me like you can solve the problem, just by cutting every department 10%. Any business knows how to do this without disrupting activities and the County can learn how to do this as well.” The County has a spending problem and all the talk about a sales tax, being pushed by the County Administrator, is a diversion from recognizing the real situation.

Hillary Decimated by Palin in Today's Poll

The media and party polls continue to play each other off with this candidate or that one being beaten by Hillary. When another candidate beats Hillary, there is the proverbial declaration of "within the margin of error too close to call". This is a never ending theme to fill airtime. The Town Criers ask you to consider their random poll.

The Town Criers are a Committee of the St. Augustine Tea Party and have been conducting polls and interacting with the national audience in historic St. Augustine for over four years. [<http://www.examiner.com/review/a-look-at-town-crier-s-history>]

The poll taken April 18, 2015 is actually the second time the Criers pursued this question, "Who would you vote for Sarah Palin or Hillary Clinton?" On January 31, 2015, the Criers first asked the question. The purpose was to gauge the effectiveness of the media's distortion and ridicule of Sarah Palin, and to test the effectiveness of the rejection of Sarah Palin by both political parties. The results of that poll were: 74% Palin, 6% Clinton and 20% neither.

Now that Hillary Clinton has announced her candidacy for president, the question was asked again. The reader should bear in mind that this is not an opinion poll strictly from St. Augustine residents. Very few people on St. George Street, on any one day are from the city. St. George Street is populated by people from every state in the union, and many countries of the world. The poll was random and face-to-face. Only American citizens of voting age were allowed to participate.

The "Big Red Sign" pictured above Always Wins!

According to the Tea Party, the Communists in America have been hiding under the names Liberal, Progressive, Marxist, and Socialist since the 1920's. For practical purposes the Democratic Party's leadership is Communist. The GOP's leadership is always looking to what other people think and doing what other people say. This "rudderless" party is adrift. They are like "fellow travelers" in the cold war sense. The Council on Foreign Relations operatives in both parties is leading this country to a New World Order. In 2009 and 2010, it was the Tea Party that stopped their total takeover. <http://www.examiner.com/article/tea-party-stopped-the-communist-take-over-of-the-usa-2010> "No one saw the Tea Party coming. Now, it is alive in the people. So The Big Red Sign always wins," a Tea Party spokesman said. Continuing, "When the sign is exposed to the public, it either awakens one, or gives assurance to others that their belief is not alone. In the minority cases it infuriates those who wish to remain in hiding." Today this reporter witnessed an individual who said, "That sign it infuriates me!" The response from the Town Crier was, "Thank you, that's what the sign is intended to do." The majority of people now understand truth behind the sign. Others are awakened. America's enemies are infuriated because for 100 years they have been able to hide. The Tea Party's job is to bring truth, into a world of deception and corruption. Truth always wins.

"I had no idea that the Town Crier Committee Report would be read around the Country when I first wrote about the Tea Party's problems with the local Republican activists here in North East Florida. Little did I know that the GOP had a co-op or destroy plan in store for the Tea Party movement as a whole.

We were naïve back then. We thought the GOP was just like us, patriots. But, sadly, we learned they were party loyalist first. They marched to the tune of the party bosses right or wrong, and not to the values of the Constitution.

Both the Obama's IRS gangsters and the GOP attacked the Tea Party movement and tried to destroy us and declare us dead. But lo and behold! The new world of the "Internet Media" has sprung up. Despite the attacks of the gangsters in the White House and their buddies in the GOP, we are getting the message out; Obama is a Communist and a Muslim sympathizer. We are still here and growing our base. Look at all the young people joining our ranks."

New Poll Destroys the Vision of the Elite GOP Leadership

Republican's "Rock Star Status" Ignored by both the Media and GOP

On April 25, 2015 a random face-to-face poll was conducted in St. Augustine, Florida, testing the strength of two potential presidential candidates. The question was "Who would you vote for Sarah Palin or Jeb Bush?" The results are as follows:

- 1. Palin 55%
- 2. Bush 37%
- 3. Neither 8%

The poll was conducted by the Town Crier Committee. The Town Criers, a committee of the St. Augustine Tea Party, have been engaging the public in the historic district of St. Augustine, Florida for over four years. The historic district hosts 5 million visitors per year. [See <http://www.examiner.com/review/a-look-at-town-crier-s-history>]

The committee has been running a series of polls, testing the effects of media slander against Gov. Palin. The first poll was taken January 31, 2015. The poll involved Palin and Clinton. Palin received 74%. The second poll, on April 18, 2015, was after Clinton announced and the money scandal started to surface. Palin received 79%. [See <http://www.examiner.com/article/hillary-decimated-by-palin-today-s-poll>]

The Republicans have a Winner

Republicans have a winner. There is no one that the Democrats could put up that would beat Sarah Palin. They know it; the Republican leadership knows it. From conversations with Republicans on this subject this reporter concludes that the Party would prefer to lose an election than embrace the former Governor of Alaska. Governor Palin was a reformer. She cleaned up the corruption surrounding the oil industry in Alaska. If you were involved in the corruption, being a Republican didn't save you. And then going rogue during the vice presidential campaign. The Republican elite do not want candidates that lead, they want followers. So, the Republicans are doing what they do when you go rogue; they shun you. In an ABC interview with Neil Karlinsky, in January, Sarah Palin suggested that she might be interested in a presidential run. She has been to Iowa. Anyone going to Iowa is a potential candidate. Look at the long list of Republicans who are on the list, just because they went to Iowa. But this does not apply to Sarah Palin. The most charismatic Republican candidate is nowhere to be seen or mentioned.

The corruption in Washington is rampant. "The Clintons and the Bushes make a lot of money "helping people". It is a cottage industry in Washington. With a Bush and a Clinton as your choice, the people lose," a Tea Party spokesperson said.

The public Loves Sarah because She's a Real Person

The following observations were made during the polling: 1) Women were more likely to vote for Palin than Bush. 2) Age did not seem to be a factor. 3) Young Libertarians, who would have been horrified a few years ago to vote for a conservative, a neocon, were far more likely to vote for Palin because they are looking for someone real. 4) In fact, the public polled generally has great affection for Sarah because they perceive that she is "a real person" who would look out for their interests and not her own. She demonstrated that in Alaska. The public believe she stands for American values and decency; she speaks truth to power.

Over and above the fact that Palin won over Bush in this poll, is the realization that the Media's negative characterization of Palin failed to convince the public who participated in this poll.

The Attack on Political Correctness Continues

Today marks the 145th appearance of the Town Criers on St. George Street. The Town Criers are a Committee of the St. Augustine Tea Party. Five million people visit St. Augustine each year and all of them find their way to the historic district. The Town Criers make every attempt to meet at least some of these visitors each week. The Town Criers with their full-size

Gadsden flags and their Tea Party signs are seen by 8 to 10,000 people each weekend. To fit in the colonial town atmosphere, the Criers are dressed in period clothing. “Well, I wouldn’t go so far as to say we are in period clothes. We are in clothing that is a facsimile of period clothes. We would do a disservice to our reenactors who are also present on the street. Their clothing is in fact historically correct down to the last detail,” a Town Crier volunteered. The reenactors and elaborately dressed Pirates who also frequent the historic district received nowhere near the attention that the Tea Party people receive. That is because they do not carry signs. Today, the Criers were deluged with requests for pictures, literally hundreds of pictures. The requests were so frequent that it made it difficult for them to complete a poll they were taking.

A Story about Signs

On Memorial Day 2011, The Big Red Sign, shown above, made its first appearance. A fifth generation of The Big Red Sign is in production. It will feature the original Soviet colors. Yellow and red signs are powerful images. That’s why the Communists selected the colors. The Big Red Sign simply states that, “Obama is a Communist”. For most Americans, the word Communist invokes a negative emotional reaction. For that reason the truth, coupled with the emotion, receives a powerful response. The Big Red Sign is the most popular sign that the Criers have ever carried. It is universally accepted as truth, except by the communists themselves. They know, in order to be successful, they must hide their identity. “Our exposure infuriates them. Oh well, they’re not happy people anyway,” a Crier offered. Then he asked, “Why doesn’t the press expose Obama? The people know the story. Why do they ignore the facts? Is it because the Media, itself “is the message”, the center of attention? It seems like “The Rhetorical Question” (without ever being answered) is the ‘hook’ that draws TV viewers and drives ratings. That’s why we answer the question with a 4 word sign...”Obama Is a Communist”. You could listen to Hannity and his ilk for a life time and never get a straight answer”...Here it is... Obama is acting like a Communist because he is a Communist and a Muslim sympathizer who hates America.

Thus, two new signs were displayed for the first time to expose Obama’s true nature. . One recited, “Obama sells Out the USA”. While it is a true statement, it lacked the emotional contact. Not one person wish to be photographed with it. The second sign stated, “Obama hates America”. Obama’s behavior demonstrates the truthfulness of the sign. The startling effect of its wordage invokes the emotion. The sign was sought out nearly as much as The Big Red Sign by the public. You will recall that, Rudy Giuliani made the same statement, “Obama hates America.” Fox News personality, Megyn Kelly, brow beat the former New York Mayor for an apology. To the credit of Mr. Giuliani, he refused repeatedly. Mr. Giuliani and the American public already know this simple truth; Obama hates America. “It looks like we have another winning sign,” a Town Crier declared.

Political Correctness

Political correctness is a term that goes back to the Cold War days, and the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union could not tolerate free speech. “And now, Communists are imposing this disgusting concept on Americans. On university campuses, on public lands and in government buildings, free speech is being restricted. It is a direct assault on the First Amendment,” an impassioned Crier declared. The Town Criers have been engaged in a war against political correctness for the last four years. From the reaction of the public, today, it appears that the Town Criers are winning that war.

‘The Signs of truth are like a lighthouse beacon shining across the troubling waters of the media’s political correctness of descent and lies...Wow, I said that?’ a member of the Town Criers said, with a laugh.
