By their Words, you will Know Them

Photos by TCCR Staff

When a Constitutionalist runs for a political office, they are described by the Communists as "Not serious candidates". Rosetta Bailey, a self-described Constitutionalist, is running for a seat on the City of St. Augustine Beach Commission. Interestingly enough, the opinion editor, Jim Sutton, of the St. Augustine Record, echoed in their endorsement editorial the phrase, "Not a serious candidate". You will note that this publication uses the word Communist. We no longer accept the "Politically Correct" terms, liberal or progressive.

We read reports about the establishment media being in the tank for the Clinton candidacy, and it is also extended to the Democratic Party. In the race in St. Augustine Beach, we see the local media following the Communist line to even nonpartisan races. The only ingredient is whether the candidate supports the Constitution or not.

We notice that of the 551 words of the Record's editorial, 106 words describe the problems at the beach, 369 words make the case for endorsement of Maggie Kostka, which we wholeheartedly agree with, and rest of the 76 words dismiss Rosetta Bailey.

The Record's position regarding Rosetta Bailey is no surprise. Rosetta Bailey is prepared to preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States in all the decisions that she would make. The leadership of both political parties and certainly the print media has no interest in the Constitution. In fact, it is a threat to where they want to take the Country. Consequently, any candidate who makes reference to the Constitution is "Not a serious candidate".

The Record correctly describes the current Beach Commission as having a circus atmosphere. The Record is right about Rosetta Bailey being the Ringmaster, although they meant to demean her. The truth is, the Ringmaster coordinates and is in charge. The Constitution would be her foundation and she would resist selling out the interests of the City of St. Augustine Beach to the federal government. So she would, indeed, be an excellent Ringmaster when they get rid of the clowns that are in there now.

Mrs. Bailey would demand of her fellow Commissioners that they observe the Constitution in the decisions and deliberative processes. Political signs would not be banned in the middle of an election in a clear violation of the First Amendment. Free speech would prevail in the public areas within St. Augustine Beach. The bullying tactics of Mayor O'Brien, using the police and City employees to harass supporters of candidates who stand in opposition would not be tolerated. Rosetta Bailey would not obtain injunctions against people who differed with her. And she wouldn't try to curb public comments at Commission meetings. She would not ignore the public's input.

People who appreciate the blessings of liberty should have no problem voting for Rosetta Bailey. Only those with the collective mindset, and the totalitarianism that follows, can appreciate Mayor O'Brien's bullying tactics.

The Country is at a crossroads, and so is St. Augustine Beach. The issues are very similar. We either live in freedom and liberty, or suffocate with tyranny.

Town Criers Trump Bill Clinton

Photos by TCCR Staff

On November 5, 2016, a group of approximately 200 people waited in the parking lot in front of the Office of the Supervisor of Elections in Putnam County, Florida. The assembly appeared to be a well orchestrated group of Hillary Clinton supporters. Many of the participants wore color-coordinated T-shirts supporting Democratic candidates. It was not a spontaneous outpouring. They were awaiting the arrival of a Clinton campaign bus and the appearance of William Clinton. Mr. Clinton's campaign bus arrived in the late afternoon in the City of Palatka. Palatka is a community where blacks are the majority and it is a local Democratic stronghold. One would think that a much greater crowd would have been present. It was a very poor turnout. The TCCR reporter had just left an earlier event that took place in the historic district of St. Augustine, Florida. St. Augustine is about 30 miles East of Palatka and was the site of an Anti-Hillary event. The enthusiastic response to the "Hillary for Prison" demonstration was a sharp contrast to the Clinton event.

Town Crier's Anti-Hillary Campaign Eclipses Bill Clinton's Event

Photos by TCCR Staff

Earlier in the day, the Town Criers conducted their last Anti-Hillary campaign of the 2016 election cycle, in the historic district of St. Augustine, Florida. The Town Criers are a committee of the St. Augustine Tea Party and have been engaging the public, on St George Street, with political issues since 2011.

During the afternoon of November 5th, the Town Criers estimate that they were seen by at least 10,000 people; several thousand enthusiastically responded to their "Hillary for Prison" campaign. It was a big day for the Town Criers. It should be noted that while the signage was anti-Hillary, the Town Criers carried no signs promoting, Donald Trump. The Tea Party has a policy of not endorsing political candidates. "To be so favorably received on our last day of the election campaign is indeed gratifying. But to eclipse the former president with both, the numbers engaged and the enthusiasm, well, that's just an extra bonus. Bill Clinton stood before the faithful; the Town Criers stood in an open arena. Bill Clinton was only solidifying his base; the Town Criers had the opportunity to engage the undecided. The vast majority of the public greeted today, want Hillary indicted, prosecuted and placed in jail... not in the White House," Lance Thate Chairman of the SATP said.

The Communist Left Tries to Hijack Town Crier's Message

The woman in the striped dress pictured here and above, made an attempt to disrupt the Town Crier activities. For about five minutes. She stood in front of the Town Criers and screamed, "Vote for Hillary, Vote for Hillary, Vote for Hillary..." This is not the first time that the Town Criers have experienced this kind of screaming technique; it has happened before. "But the result has always ended in failure for the screamer because the public comes to our defense," a Town Crier volunteer explained. Screaming is a technique to discourage free speech and the public sees through the charade.

What happened in this situation was a large group of people formed, taking pictures and reacting with the Tea Party volunteers as the woman continued her rant. Eventually she saw that she was aiding the Town Criers, rather than disrupting them. At which point, she gave up and departed abruptly.

Much later, as the Town Criers disengaged by marching up St. George Street to their vehicles, the public that encountered them favored them with their support and their respect. "What a way to end the 2016 campaign," a Town Crier said with humility.

Comey Clears Clinton.....Again? A Sunday Night Massacre

by John Knapp

We had the famous 'Saturday Night Massacre' on October 20, 1973, when President Richard Nixon asked U.S. Attorney General Elliot Richardson to fire Special Watergate Prosecutor Archibald Cox. Richardson refused, so Nixon fired him. Nixon then turned to Deputy Attorney General William

Ruckelshaus to fire Cox. When Ruckelshaus refused, Nixon fired him, too. Nixon then turned to Solicitor General Robert Bork, who was sworn in as acting Attorney General, and Bork fired Archibald Cox. Bork considered resigning over the incident, too, but did not. There was a great hue and cry from the American public. Nixon was obviously guilty of something, and Americans on both sides of the political aisle well understood it that evening.

This evening, November 6, 2016, America has experienced a 'Sunday Night Massacre.' FBI Director James Comey announced today the FBI has already reviewed (in just a few days?) all 650,000 emails on Anthony Weiner's laptop, and career criminal Hillary Clinton has been cleared once again, as there is nothing new there to implicate her in any wrongdoing.

Anyone who still believes that, please go stand on your head.

No people were fired today, but many other precious things this Sunday night were massacred, to wit: FBI, DOJ, and State Department accountability, the public trust, the American people's faith in honest government, justice, reason, truth, political accountability, honor, and the future of our Republican form of government. Nothing here to see, America, so, move along. Just as with the Nixon debacle, everyone on both sides of the political aisle knows Hillary is guilty of something. Indeed, Hillary Clinton is guilty of very many some things.

Four pertinent questions come to mind:

- 1) Where do Citizens go for justice, when they finally understand their government is so corrupt?
- 2) Where does corrupt government go to regain the trust of the Citizens, once that trust has been so violated?
- 3) Should the middle of this country let go, for due and just cause, what will hold the ends together?
- 4) What, exactly, are Citizens' obligations to such a corrupt government?

Tonight, this Humpty-Dumpty government may have begun the ultimate fall.

Final 2016 Trump Hillary Poll

Election Analysis Based on SGS Poll

The St. Augustine Tea Party has been running random selection, face-to-face polls in the historic district of St. Augustine since early 2015. The demographics on St.

George Street are national. The polls tested Trump's ability to win on a third-party party ticket or as an independent. As an example, had the Republicans nominated Bush and the Democrats nominated Clinton, Trump would have won as an Independent. Photos by TCCR Staff

During the primary process, Trump was matched up against establishment Republicans in the race. Trump always won by a substantial margin. As a result, by early 2016, according to the St. George Street sample, Trump was the predicted winner of the Republican nomination. The Tea Party had some reservations as to whether the Republicans would allow him the nomination, but never had a doubt as to whether he could win.

After Clinton and Trump became their respective party's nominees, Trump has always had a huge lead. What accounts for the discrepancy between other polls and the SGS Poll? Most other polls look at likely voters. They are also concerned with party affiliation. The SGS Poll uses a sample of Americans who claim they are registered voters and are of voting age. The St. George Street Poll is focused on "We the People".

Based on our five year experience with the people and what they have been telling us over the years, it's going to be Trump by a very large margin. How big? Perhaps our latest poll, taken on November 5, 2016, will provide the answer. The results of our latest poll are:

Trump	67%
Clinton	27%
Neither	6%

Town Criers to Stand Down

Town Crier Chairman Lance Thate reports:

“The Town Criers have completed their 179th mission with the conclusion of November 5th activity. Over 1.5 million people have encountered our flags and signs. An estimated 89,500 photographs have been taken by the public. The great majority of these photographs have been placed on Facebook and more recently on Twitter. Only God knows the total number of photos viewed. Based on the average daily views, our website has had 2.2 million visits. We have mailed our publication 335,500 times. People from every state in the union and 37 countries follow the activities of the Town Crier Committee.

The Town Crier mission has been to engage and listen to the voice of the American People. There is a different story being told when you listen to them. The corporate establishment media and the pundits that frequent it are destroying America. The print media and the major TV networks have evolved into propagandists. The best you can get is fair and balanced. Fair and balanced doesn't necessarily equate to reporting the truth of the matter.

The Town Criers are going to stand down effective November 9, 2016. This is true regardless of who wins the election. This is not the first time that the Town Crier committee has stood down. We did so in 2012. After the 2012 election, we were so demoralized that we had to take time to reevaluate. By mid January 2013, it was clear that our mission should continue.

While the “boots on the ground” activity will be suspended, our Town Crier Committee Report will continue to be published. Town Crier volunteers have been marching for over five years. They have never asked for anything, but they receive a great reward. They have the respect and the love of their fellow countrymen. It is our intention to stand down until Inauguration Day. Our troops need some R and R. Should the election go badly and or be contested, the Town Criers will serve in any way they can.

The last time we stood down, we were demoralized. This time, if things go badly, we will be enraged.”

Election Day at St. Augustine Beach

Photos By TCCR Staff

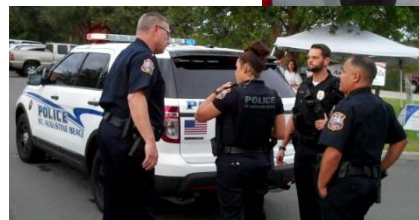

Election day, November 8, 2016, for the St. Augustine Tea Party was focused at the polling station at City Hall in St. Augustine Beach, Florida. The Tea Party had been concerned with city commissioners interfering with an election, by removing political signs from public lands in the middle of an election. While the Tea Party does not formally endorse candidates, a group of Tea Party members, as individuals, supported the candidacies of Rosetta Bailey and Maggie Kostka.

Maggie Kostka Unseats the Samuels

husband of Andrea Samuels, attacked Commissioner Undine George at a dinner at Marsh Creek Country Club. The Samuels and Mayor O'Brien have a history in the community of using bullying tactics. Today, the O'Brien campaign created an incident against his opponent, Rosetta Bailey, which required police resolution. Tea Party candidate, Rosetta Bailey, made an impressive showing, capturing about 40% of the vote. Mrs. Bailey is relatively new to St. Augustine Beach and had limited resources and time.

Trump Wins

Hope Springs Forth ...

And Communists Attack

Within 18 hours of Donald Trump being declared the “President Elect”, the Communists left began their anti-Trump war. From New York to California and points in between, demonstrations with thousands of participants began. Now, with three days having passed, the Communist left’s demonstrations make obvious their true intent. Their purpose is to create fear, anxiety and chaos. This is not about free speech and the right to assemble, so characteristic of the rallies of the Tea Parties in 2009. You will recall, tens of thousands of people would assemble and disperse without leaving a trace of their presence after they departed. But rather, this is about creating uncertainty and lawless property destruction. The procedure is well known. All done in Coach Saul Alinsky’s style. First you take some naïve well intentioned individuals, then you mix in the anarchists and communist activists and then you have a riot. The same leftist money organizations that support Obama and Clinton also support this lawless band of Anarchists and Communists. Complicit in all of this is the propagandist media portraying the events as expressions of free speech. The Communist leftists have no interest in free speech, but only their agenda. The Town Criers, a committee of the St. Augustine Tea Party, have five years experience with their un-American activities.

Hope springs forward as the great American majority looks to restoring America’s greatness. If America returns to its greatness, it will expose to the entire world, the Communist lie. The Communist left cannot let this restoration happen. While Clinton and Obama talk about a peaceful transition, their agents are putting violent people in the streets. In addition, their agents are working to undermine the election by resisting the “Certification of the Election” by states like Michigan, Wisconsin, Vermont, and Pennsylvania. Using recalls and the popular vote numbers, they hope to influence the Electoral College on December 19, 2016. The Communists take seriously Stalin’s observation, “It is not who votes, but who counts the votes, that really counts.”

Time to Identify the Domestic Enemy

During the campaign, Trump correctly exposed Clinton's and Obama's failure to identify America's "Foreign Enemy" as "Islamic Terrorists". The idea being that if you cannot identify your enemy, you cannot defeat him. The Islamic Terrorists and the Communists have joined forces to undermine and destroy the concept of individual liberty.

WikiLeaks has, once and for all, exposed the establishment media as being nothing but instruments of propaganda for the Left. During the campaign, Donald Trump cut a main artery in the concept of "Political Correctness". It is time to let the beast bleed to death. The ultimate "Politically Incorrect" term is "Communist".

It is time for Mr. Trump to use the same logic, as it applies to Islamic Terrorism, to the word "Communist". If you continue to use the words Liberal or Progressive without understanding that they are words designed to cover the true identity, you cannot defeat America's "Domestic Enemy".

Research shows the so-called "Progressive Movement", is a tactic, not a philosophy or a movement. It is a tactic used to transform cultures and nations to Communism. The progressive tactic, being the incremental transformation to a communist society while concealing the communist identity. It originated in England, after Karl Marx's death as the "Fabian Society". The idea came to America as Progressive. America has been on the Progressive path for over 100 years.

President-Elect Trump recently tweeted, "Just had a very open and successful presidential election. Now professional protesters, incited by the media, are protesting. Very unfair!"

In the tweet above, Mr. Trump avoided being politically incorrect. Using the term "professional protesters" is certainly a correct observation. Communists are, indeed, professional protesters. But, using the word Communists would have identified America's true Domestic Enemy.

Public Contempt for City Commissioners Erupts

Local Story... National Implications

Exactly one week ago today, Donald Trump became the President-elect in a political upset that astounded the Country's propagandist media. The corporate media giants are being rejected by the public as they find the information they need from other sources. The revelation of this historical precedent has been laid out for all to see. The Wiki-Leaks exposure of the Communist left media and its connection with the Democratic Party compounds the media's problem. The New York Times is fighting for credibility on a level they never thought possible.

An example on the local level is the coverage that The St. Augustine Record provided its readers, or failed to provide, on the City of St. Augustine Beach Commissioner's meeting on November 14, 2016. The Record's coverage was confined to an extended discussion about a vacant mosquito control building and the struggles between the city and the county as to who should acquire it. The Record, a publication with an extreme left bias, manipulated the news, as we have seen on a national level, by ignoring the real story.

The People Speak Out

The real story occurred during the public comment section of the agenda. Prior to public comment, City Attorney, James Wilson, suggested that new rules for public comment would be forthcoming. This ignited a firestorm of rejections of Mr. Wilson's comments. Numerous speakers protested the idea that Commissioners would decide what free speech is and reminded all of them about the First Amendment. The current board has a history of trying to suppress public comment, according to several speakers. The Mayor, O'Brien, has been under criticism for using injunctions against political opponents. One of his supporters created an assault incident on Election Day, requiring police intervention. A picture showing, Rosetta Bailey the person assaulted, is shown above. The board is also under criticism for enacting a sign ordinance, which interfered with the political process during the course of an election. Numerous persons demanded a repeal of the sign ordinance. Several Tea Party members joined in the public protest demanding an end to the bullying tactics.

Photos by TCCR Staff

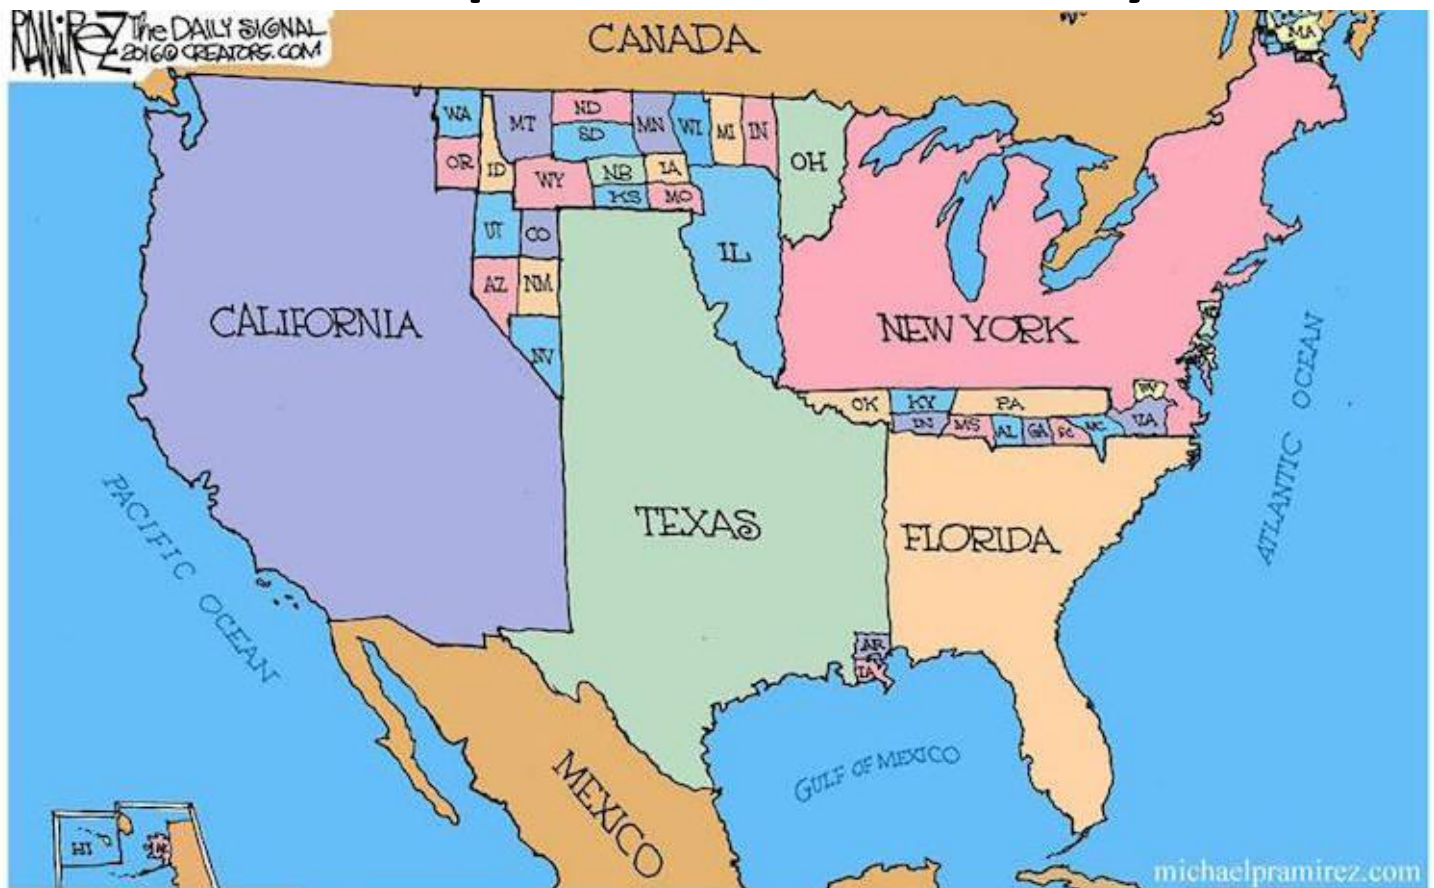

The Trump victory has ignited a revolution and that revolution is occurring both in Washington and at local levels. Citizens are no longer standing by in silence. Apparently, The Record hasn't got the word yet. A firestorm of criticism was thrown at the board last night. Normally, that would be news. The Record chose to report on a vacant building, pretending that nothing has changed. They are behaving a lot like the New York Times.

Is America a Republic or a Democracy?

America is a Constitutional Republic. If our politicians govern accordingly, the Constitution, as written, offers the greatest opportunity for equality under the law. A Democracy is little more than mob rule. A majority inflicts, without exception, tyranny on the minority. It was the States that created the Federal government. It is the States and the people residing therein which elect the President. To insure that all have a voice in the decision, the Electoral College was created. The map above reflects a system using the popular vote.
